

Broadcast Update
for the week of Sept. 2-8, 2018

Greetings to everyone on this list!

In this issue:

- Recent Broadcasts
- Coming Attractions
- News
- Radio Requests
- Resource Directory

RECENT BROADCASTS:

Host John Zech mentioned Anne-Sophie Mutter in the Aug. 26 edition of Composers Datebook (<http://composersdatebook.publicradio.org/about>), whose topic was Andre Previn's Tango, Song and Dance, quoting that composer's "I have one piece of advice to composers for the violin—make sure Anne-Sophie premieres your piece."

Tom Quick reports that, on Women in Music on The Grand at 101 FM (www.thegrand101.com) on Aug. 26, he broadcast the Royal Ballet Sinfonia, conducted by Andrew Penny, playing Grace Williams's Fantasia on Welsh Nursery Tunes; baritone Jeremy Huw Williams and harpist Rachel Kay Green, performing Six Welsh Oxen Songs by Grace Williams; Manitoba Chamber Orchestra, conducted by Roy Goodman, playing "High Wind," "Sailing Song," "Channel Sirens," "Breakers," and "Calm Sea in Summer" from Grace Williams's Sea Sketches; violinist Cecilia Zilliacus and pianist Bengt Forsberg, playing Amanda Maier's Nine Pieces for Violin and Piano; the Dahlkvisk Quartet, playing Andrea Tarrodi's Miroirs, String Quartet no. 1; violinist Gregory Mayton, playing Amanda Maier's Violin Concerto in D Minor with the Helsingborg Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Andreas Stoehr; violist Jon Dahlkvist and cellist Hanna Dahlkvist, playing Andrea Tarrodi's Sorrow and Joy for Viola and Cello; and baritone Jeremy Huw Williams and harpist Rachel Kay Green, playing "The White Town" and "Eagle of Pengwern" from Grace Williams's Two Ninth Century Welsh Poems.

Host John Zech mentioned music patron Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge in the Aug. 27 edition of Composers Datebook, whose topic was composer Rebecca Clarke. Information about the show is available at <http://composersdatebook.publicradio.org/about>.

On Aug. 28, host Ken Field included Anne Akiko Meyers's recording of Arvo Pärt's Fratres in The New Edge, a two-hour radio program "devoted to creative and innovative instrumental music." The New Edge airs Tuesdays 2:00-4:00 P.M. Eastern Time on WMBR <http://www.wmbr.org> and at 88.1 FM in Cambridge/Boston, MA, USA, and Fridays 1:00-3:00 A.M., Fridays 2:00-4:00 P.M., Sundays 6:00-8:00 P.M., Tuesdays

2:00-4:00 A.M., and Wednesdays 8:00-10:00 A.M. on <http://taintradio.org>. Complete playlists are available at <http://wmbr.org/>.

In the Aug. 29 edition of Music of Our Mothers on WFCF (Flagler College Radio in St. Augustine, Florida, USA, and www.musicofourmothers.com), host Ellen Grolman broadcast the All-American Cello Band, playing Gity Razaz's Strange Highway; Musica Secreta, directed by Deborah Roberts, performing Barbara Strozzi's "Amor Dormiglione" and "Sete pur Fastidioso"; vibraphonist Emil Machain and marimba player Tomas Kovanda, playing Anna Ignatowicz-Glinska's Passacaglia; hornist William Purvis and pianist Mihae Lee, playing Three Romances of Clara Schumann; accordion player Stas Venglevski, playing Anna Rubin's "Celia's Samovar"; composer and cellist Zoe Keating, playing her own Music for Sixteen Cellos and "Fern"; violinist Laura Kobayashi and pianist Susan Keith Gray, playing Signe Lund's Barcarolle and Anna Priscilla Risher's Mazurka Brilliante; tuba player Gary Buttery and hornist Elizabeth Gates, playing "Bixbite Boulders," "Haunting Hematite," "Oscillating Onyx," "Basanite," "Blue and Black," "Agate and Amber" "Memory of Malachite," "Awakening of the Amethyst," and "Opal Ocean" from liane Aberdam's Triumphant Gems; and Nick Naegele and Josh Ulrich on violin and fiddle, playing Jennifer Jolley's Concerto for Violin and Fiddle.

The topic of the Aug. 29 edition of Composers Datebook was Courtship Songs, composed by Stephen Paulus under commission from Jack and Linda Hoeschler, who were two of the founders of the Commissioning Club, which commissioned works by Paul Schoenfield, Steve Heitzeg, Augusta Read Thomas, and others. Information about the show, hosted by John Zech, is available at <http://composersdatebook.publicradio.org/about>.

Host Kath Fraser broadcast this music in the Aug. 30 edition of Gathering Her Notes on ECR (Ellensburg Community Radio in Ellensburg, WA, USA): Carson Cooman, performing "Mary e la Creatura" from Carlotta Ferrari's Lady Frankenstein; Carlyn Morenus, playing Nancy Van De Vate's Prelude for Organ; the Lincoln Trio, playing Andante Molto Semplice from Rebecca Clarke's Trio for Violin, Violoncello, and Piano; Philip Dukes and Sophia Rahman, playing Rebecca Clarke's Passacaglia and "I'll Bid My Heart Be Still"; New Muse Piano Duo (Paola Savvidou and Jonathan Kuuskoski), playing Emily Doolittle's Sorex (A Celebration of Untamed Shrews); Susanna Phillips, Aurelien Pederzoli, and Philip Morehead, playing "Sipping Tea in Samarkand" and "Brass Rail Blues" from Patricia Morehead's Triptych; and the KMV Trio, playing "Leggiero," "Dolce," and "Energeco" from Britta Bystrom's Symphony in Yellow. Kath Fraser characterizes Gathering Her Notes as a program focusing on "women's contemporary classical music from the late 20th and the 21st centuries with the occasional digression." The show is streamed online at www.eburgradio.org. Thursdays 1:00-2:00 P.M. PT, archived at www.eburgradio.org/programs/gathering-her-notes/, and on Mixcloud: <http://www.mixcloud.com/Kathfraser/>.

Station manager Dimitri Voudouris of Radio Horizon 93.9 FM in Johannesburg, South Africa, reports having played these works during August: five tracks from Ingrid Stolz's The Gorgeous Nothings; three tracks from JJ Luo's A Song of Unending Sorrow; and Linda Catlin Smith's "Cantilena" and "Piano."

Throughout August, John Winsor, host of NACUSA Web Radio (<http://nacusa.us/radio.html>) included Lisa Ann Marsh's "Sylvan" and "The Heart's Constellation"; "Ark" from Karen Amanda Amrhein's Short Stories; Nancy Bloomer Deussen's "Et in Terra Pax" and In Movimento from her Trio for Violin, Cello, and Piano; Adrienne Albert's "Nightfall for Cello and Piano"; "Tuesday" from Deane E. Bottorf's Weekdays Suite; nailah nombeko's Short Songs to the Poetry of William Blake and "Obscurity"; "Idyll" from Karen Amanda Amrhein's Bestiary; "The Phones" from Mickie D. Willis's In the City, a piano cycle for four pianos; Betty R Wishart's "Night Visions I"; and Vivian Adelberg Rudow's "Rebecca's Rainbow Racing Among the Stars" in the playlist (repeated every two hours).

COMING ATTRACTIONS:

Richard Beckman's Sunday show, Worldwide Classical (knhd1047.radiostream321.com, knhd1047.listen2myshow.com, knhd1047.radio12345.com, and knhd1047.radiostream123.com), in Eugene, OR, USA), is on hiatus.

Throughout September, John Winsor, host of NACUSA Web Radio (<http://nacusa.us/radio.html>) will be including Claire Karst Rivero's "Place Your Mind in the Mirror of Eternity," "On Gratitude," and "In Times of War, A Prayer For Peace"; Lisa Ann Marsh's "Why Broken Heart"; Nancy Bloomer Deussen's "Ascent to Victory"; the third movement of Nailah Nombeko's Mount Morris Park Suite; "Wednesday" and "Thursday" from Deane E. Bottorf's Weekdays Suite; Movement One of Lori F Ardovino's Diversions; "Griffin" from Karen Amanda Amrhein's Bestiary; and "Bogart" from Vivian Adelberg Rudow's "John's Song" in the playlist (repeated every two hours).

NEWS:

Mentioning choreographer Yolande Snait, and quoting Christiane Kubrick, widow of director Stanley Kubrick, Tim Greiving reported on Aug. 22 for NPR's All Things Considered on English composer Jocelyn Pook, who wrote the score for The Wife (<https://www.npr.org/2018/08/22/640996987/a-tone-of-melancholy-how-jocelyn-pook-s-music-captures-pain>).

Ted Robbins wrote a tribute to "Queen of Soul," Aretha Franklin, for NPR on Aug. 16 (<https://www.npr.org/2018/08/16/532687119/aretha-franklin-the-queen-of-soul-dead-at-76?>

utm_source=npr_newsletter&utm_medium=email&utm_content=20180816&utm_campaign=&utm_term=).

NPR posted, on July 30, its Turning the Tables list of 200 women who, since 2000, have created major popular music (<https://www.npr.org/2018/07/09/627397206/turning-the-tables-the-200-greatest-songs-by-21st-century-women-part-6>).

Interviewing Jennifer Higdon and Julia Wolfe and sampling music composed by them and Kaija Saariaho, Tom Huizenga reported on June 19 for NPR's All Things Considered on the scarcity of women's compositions on concert programs. The Chicago Symphony Orchestra and the Philadelphia Orchestra, he reports, have scheduled no works by women for the 2018-19 season. Without defending the dismal statistics, Jesse Rosen, president and CEO of the League of American Orchestras, explains them this way: "If you go back in time, this was not a viable career for a woman to become a composer. And so, you have a canon that, by definition, does not have a lot of women composers in it" (<https://www.npr.org/sections/deceptivecadence/2018/06/19/617136805/the-sound-of-silence-female-composers-at-the-symphony>).

NPR's Weekend Edition Sunday on May 27 explored the roles for and status of women in opera in the era of the #MeToo movement. Lulu Garcia-Navarro interviewed opera singers Leah Hawkins and Aleks Romano and Kim Witman, Wolf Trap Opera's vice president of opera and classical programming (<https://www.npr.org/sections/deceptivecadence/2018/05/27/614470629/my-voice-should-be-heard-metoo-and-the-women-of-opera>).

Charles Dean Conrad, founder and programmer of Radio ArtsIndonesia, has announced that he has closed the site he founded more than 12 years ago. After thanking "composers, performers, and recording organizations for your support for Radio ArtsIndonesia," Conrad cited "so many changes happening on the internet as well changes in software," three instances of hacking, and a diminution in listener count for his decision. The final broadcast was Apr. 19.

Marvin Rosen, host of Classical Discoveries on WPRB (103.3 FM and online at www.wprb.com in Princeton, NJ, USA) has written a blog summarizing his In Praise of Women: <https://marvinthecat.wordpress.com/2018/04/06/in-praise-of-women-15-years-on-the-air/>.

On Apr. 9, Ann Powers reported on the list of women's albums that NPR listeners have chosen as the top 150 of all time (https://www.npr.org/2018/04/09/600116052/turning-the-tables-the-150-greatest-albums-made-by-women-as-chosen-by-you?utm_source=npr_newsletter&utm_medium=email&utm_content=20180409&utm_campaign=youmusthearthis&utm_term=music).

On Mar. 13, David C. Barnett reported for NPR's Here and Now on how classical music broadcasters are responding to sexual harassment claims, specifically whether they continue to program music conducted by James Levine, who has been fired from the Metropolitan Opera, and Charles Dutoit, former conductor of the Royal Philharmonic, who has been accused (<http://www.wbur.org/hereandnow/2018/03/13/sexual-misconduct-allegations-conductors-classical-music>).

WQXR in New York, NY, USA, is hosting two blogs, one on the topic of “Notable Women Firsts in the Classical World” (<https://www.wqxr.org/story/notable-women-firsts-classical-world-part-1>.)” The other is “We Asked 11 Composers about the Women Who Have Inspired Them” (<https://www.wqxr.org/story/11-composers-women-who-have-inspired-them>).

WERU-FM Community Radio in East Orland, Maine, USA, is our newest “friendly” broadcaster. The station broadcasts and streams Women’s Windows at weru.org Sunday nights 8:00-10:00 P.M. E.T. Women’s Windows highlights women’s accomplishments found mostly “under the radar”—diverse music and spoken word. Mailing address: Women’s Windows, attn.: Linda Washburn, WERU Community Radio, PO Box 170, East Orland, ME 04431. Email: womenswindows1988@gmail.com.

As Anastasia Tsioulcas reported for NPR on Feb. 6, women in the music industry are demanding that the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences (NARAS) address gender bias—but NARAS does not even know how many of its members are women (https://www.npr.org/sections/therecord/2018/02/06/583464118/women-in-the-music-industry-call-for-evolution-at-the-grammys?utm_source=npr_newsletter&utm_medium=email&utm_content=20180208&utm_campaign=youmusthearthis&utm_term=music).

The Listeners’ Requests program on KWAX (in Eugene, OR, USA and at <http://www.kwax.com/about.php>) has changed. Listeners are now asked to request music no oftener than once a month. Additional restrictions apply: Callers must request a specific work. Requests can be made by telephone only: (541) 345-9814 or (toll-free) (877) 592-9911. The optimal time to call seems to be 10:00 A.M. Pacific Time. Listeners’ Requests is on the air Fridays, 1:00-5:00 P.M. Pacific Time.

In 2005, KWAX was named one of our three Honored Broadcasters for its practice of including music written by women in its broadcasts. However, the station has, since Sept. 2016, been at least temporarily suspended from inclusion in the list of “friendly” stations in the IAWM’s Resource Directory, following personnel and other changes at the station. The Resource Directory appears at the end of this e-newsletter and on the IAWM Web page.

KJ McCleary, host of The Mist-Covered Mountain on KLCC in Eugene, R, USA, on Dec. 17 renewed her call for recordings of Chanukah and/or Klezmer music compatible with the show’s focus on “Celtic music with roots in Ireland, Scotland and throughout the British Isles.” She can be reached at music@klcc.org.

The American Composers Forum on Mar. 9, 2017 honored the International Alliance for Women in Music by naming it a 2017 Champion of New Music. This e-newsletter, the Resource Directory included below, and the Radio Request program are essential parts of the IAWM's promotion of music composed by women.

Beata Rzeszodko-Rosen reports that her husband, Marvin Rosen, who is the host of Classical Discoveries on WPRB, is interested in receiving recordings from composers from southern Europe and the Middle East. Composers are encouraged to e-mail him at Marvinrosen@classicaldiscoveries.org.

Composer and IAWM member Marian Mapes-Bouck has left a 20-acre parcel of land to station KMUD. Mapes-Bouck, who died in 2009, had hosted the classical music programs Marian's Klassics and Bach to Bouck on the station since 2006.

Host Scott Simon of NPR's Weekend Edition Saturday on Sat., Sept. 4, 2012, interviewed Ann and Nancy Wilson of the band Heart for "Legendary Rock Band Looks Ahead" (archived at <http://www.npr.org/templates/story/story.php?storyId=129611047&ps=cprs>), saying, "For women in the '70s, the world of rock 'n' roll was tough to crack." Ann Wilson replied, in part, "Radio would play only one woman per hour."

RADIO REQUESTS:

The Advocacy Committee encourages participants in this list to contact their local or Internet radio stations and ask them to play music by a chosen composer each week. The (l-o-n-g) list of composers featured in the past appears at <http://iawm.org/radio-requests/past-radio-requests/>, along with links to Web pages containing biographical information and discographies.

This week's Radio Request composer is AUGUSTA READ THOMAS. An e-mail with details will follow this newsletter.

Every week, Advocacy Committee chair Ursula Rempel researches and selects a composer, Elisabeth Blair adds the new Radio Request to our Web page (<https://iawm.org/radio-requests-music>), and participants in this list telephone and e-mail local and Internet classical radio stations and ask them to broadcast work by the chosen composer. A list of "friendly" stations—those inclined to broadcast music written by women—appears below.

RESOURCE DIRECTORY:

The Advocacy Committee encourages every composer and performer with a commercially produced CD to send it to appropriate stations--and, as Ursula Rempel says, "let us know that you have."

We encourage everyone who hears women's compositions over the airwaves or the Internet to thank the broadcasters.

A growing list of "friendly" stations follows. "Friendly" stations are those inclined to broadcast recordings of compositions by women and living composers.

[If possible, before mailing CDs, go to the stations' Web pages to get a sense of the types of music they play.]

ABC Classic FM (Australia). The Web address is <http://www.abc.net.au/classic/>. Please direct correspondence relating to new releases and other broadcast proposals to the new network Daily Programming Unit - dpu@abc.net.au, address Daily Programming Unit, ABC Classic FM, GPO Box 9994, Sydney, NSW 2001 AUSTRALIA. The unit has a strong commitment to improving gender balance in classical programming across the board from early music to the latest compositions. Note that, while ABC Classic FM does not have a dedicated new music program on radio, the network does have the New Waves Podcast (<http://www.abc.net.au/classic/australianmusic/podcast.htm>), a weekly podcast program of new Australian music and interviews.

For inquiries regarding this program, and for event, recording, and production proposals relating to new and repertoire Australian music, please contact Australian Music Unit producer Stephen Adams (adams.stephen@abc.net.au). (NB: Stephen is also a member of the Daily Programming Unit.)

Berklee Internet Radio Network (BIRN). Music must be submitted on CDs only. "The BIRN will only play the submitted music if a BIRN DJ chooses to. You should try to identify that DJ in your submission. The BIRN will not play music with obscenities or indecent content." Print the Submission Form from the Web page (<http://media.thebirn.com/BIRN-release.pdf>) and mail it with the CD and a single page about the artist to The BIRN / Berklee College of Music / MS-150 / 1140 Boylston Street / Boston, MA 02215 USA, or drop it off at Professional Writing Center, at 150 Massachusetts Avenue or the Submissions Box outside our door on the third floor of the Uchida Building at 921 Boylston St. "It is highly recommended that artist and track information be submitted to Gracenote [<http://www.gracenote.com>] before sending to The BIRN." Questions may be sent to info@thebirn.com.

COAST TO COAST A.M. Composers and performers interested in having excerpts of their work played as "bumper music" on Coast to Coast A.M.--a commercial radio program carried by "more than 500 stations in the U.S., as well as Canada, Mexico and Guam" and "heard by nearly three million weekly listeners"--may want to see <http://www.coasttocoastam.com/article/new-music-sundays>. The first Sunday of every month, Coast to Coast A.M. plays short clips of new music as transitions between program segments.

ECR (ELLENSBURG COMMUNITY RADIO) streams Gathering Her Notes, a program focusing on "women's contemporary classical music from the late 20th and the 21st centuries with the occasional digression" online Thursdays 1:00 to 2:00 P.M. Pacific

Time at eburgradioradio.com. Previous shows are archived at <https://www.mixcloud.com/Kathfraser/gathering-her-notes>. Contact host Kath Fraser and send mp3s to mskathfraser@gmail.com; the mailing address for CDs is 2150 Teanaway Road, Cle Elum WA USA 98922.

THE GRAND at 101.1 FM in Fergus, Ontario, Canada, and at www.thegrand101.com. Tom Quick's show, Women in Music, is broadcast at least two Sundays a month, 10:00 P.M. to midnight Eastern Time. He is especially interested in Canadian content, and can be reached at quickmusic1@gmail.com.

HILDEGARD TO HILDEGARD (www.hildegardtihildegard.blogspot.com), "an exclusively female music show, ancient to contemporary, from Hildegard von Bingen to Hildegard Westerkamp," runs in the United Kingdom Thursdays at 2:00 P.M. (GMT) on Soundart Radio (www.soundartradio.org.uk). Producer Ariane Delaunois reports, "We offer air space to living female composers and sound artists, classical, electro-acoustic, electronic and experimental, any music written by women that isn't pop genre, singer-writer. We love receiving CDs (best to e-mail first); don't hesitate to submit your music!" The e-mail address is hildegardtihildegard@gmail.com.

KALX (<http://kalx.berkeley.edu/kalxfaq.htm>). Information about submitting music is at http://kalx.berkeley.edu/submit_music.htm. Music directors Lindsay Melnyk and Brittney Stanley can be reached at music@kalx.berkeley.edu ("Do NOT email MP3's or other attachments!"). The mailing address is KALX / Attention: Music Director / University of California / 26 Barrows Hall #5650 / Berkeley, CA 94720-5650 (U.S.A.).

KDFC (<http://www.kdfc.com/>) in San Francisco, California (USA) (online at www.kdfc.com). "Since we are now under the same programming umbrella as KUSC in Los Angeles, our (mostly) shared programming reaches more than a million listeners each week throughout the state of California (and beyond, on-line)," says music director Rik Malone. CDs may be sent to him at Classical 102.1 KDFC, 201 Third Street, Suite 1200, San Francisco, CA 94103. You may e-mail him through the Web page. Please note that Rik reports that "we try to stay as tonal and melodic as possible in our playlist."

KGNU-FM (www.kgnu.org). You may contact Timm Lenk, Music Director, through the Web page. The mailing address is KGNU-FM, 4700 Walnut St. Boulder CO 80301 (U.S.A.).

KLCC-FM (<http://www.klcc.org>). The contact person is music, arts, and culture reporter Eric Alan. He can be reached at KLCC-FM / 136 West 8th Avenue / Eugene, OR 97401 USA / (541)463-6045 / alane@lanecc.edu.

KMFA (<http://www.kmfa.org/>) was named one of the IAWM's Honored Broadcasters for its commitment to broadcasting music written by women. Also at KMFA, IAWM member Kathryn Mishell— winner of the 2009 Gracie Award for Outstanding Portrait/Biography, given by American Women in Radio and Television (AWRT) in recognition of "superior quality in writing, production and programming," and the 2008 Silver Communicator Award of Distinction for Audio—produces and hosts Into the Light, which broadcasts women's compositions over the airwaves and the Internet (http://www.kmfa.org/listen_index.htm). Contact KMFA: 3001 N. Lamar #100, Austin, TX, USA. Please note that Into the Light is on hiatus.

KMUD plays "anything but hard rock." Broadcasts are streamed on the Internet and archived. Go to www.KMUD.org to see which programs are appropriate for your vinyl records and CDs. Contact program hosts through the Website (<http://kmud.org/>).

KNHD in Eugene, Oregon, USA (at 104.1 FM and knhd1047.radiostream321.com, knhd1047.listen2myshow.com, knhd1047.radio12345.com, and online at knhd1047.radiostream122.com) broadcasts jazz, blues, Western swing, pop, easy listening, and classical. Women's music is included in The Wireless, on Fridays, 5:00-7:00 P.M. Pacific Time. and in Classical Worldwide, his show of new classical music (Noon-2:00 P.M. , Pacific Time, Sundays). Host Richard Beckman says that he can play mp3s as well as CDs; please e-mail him (rikkirikradio@gmail.com) before mailing recordings to Richard Beckman / 3355 N. Delta Hwy. / #148 / Eugene OR 97408 / USA.

KRVM (<http://www.krvm.org/index.html>). Owned by Eugene School District 4J, KRVM can be heard online at <http://www.krvm.org/listen/listen.html>. "Our Women In Music show airs Tuesday evenings from 7:00 to 9:00 P.M. Pacific Time, and we are certainly open to receiving any CDs by women artists for consideration of airplay," says program director Stu Allen. "The show focuses on contemporary music as opposed to classical, jazz, or world music. CDs may be addressed to KRVM / Women In Music / 1574 Coburg Rd #237 / Eugene, OR 97401 (USA). I'll be sure they get into the right hands."

KTRU, affiliated with Rice University in Houston, TX (USA), produces Scordatura, which is dedicated to new music, avant-garde music, electroacoustic music, soundscape, and anything unusual. The station broadcasts seven hours of new music (many different kinds) each week. They also interview composers and performers of contemporary music on the show. The Web page is <http://www.ktru.org/> (there's a "Listen Now" button). Composers and performers may send CDs and contact information to: Scordatura Show/KTRU-FM/Ley Student Center/Rice University/6100 Main St./Houston, TX 77005.

KUFM plays a very eclectic mix of musical genres--from opera to hip hop. Its personnel have been known to read at length from liner notes of living composers. You may contact from the Web page: Michael Marsolek, Program Director, or Susan Bensen, Morning Classics Music Director. Montana Public Radio, the University of Montana, Missoula, MT, 59812-8064, USA. (406) 243-4931. 1-800-325-1565. <http://www.mtpr.net/contact.html>.

Radio Horizon 93.9 FM in Johannesburg, South Africa. Station manager Dimitri Voudouris says that the station likes to broadcast "works by women/living composers." He prefers to be contacted before people send CDs: dimitrivo@absamail.co.za.

Radio Monalisa, Amsterdam, the Netherlands, is available over the Internet at <http://www.radiomonalisa.nl>. Patricia Werner Leanse produces and hosts Muziek Van Vrouwelijke Componisten (Music by Women Composers). Contact her through the Web site.

Sveriges Radio, Swedish Public Radio (<http://sverigesradio.se/>), carries Birgitta Tollan's series, Ord och bild blir musik. Levande tonsättare berättar (Words and Images Become Music. Living Composers' Stories), and Birgitta reports that she is "very interested in receiving CD's from composers and performers!" Composers and performers may contact her at tollanmedia@mail.dk. Her surface mail address is Birgitta Tollan / H C Oerstedes Vej 11 A, 3 T H / DK 1879 Frederiksberg C / Denmark.

WCNY Classic FM broadcasts Diane Jones's Fresh From the Wrapper Thursday afternoons, 1:00-2:00 P.M. Eastern Time, "sampling works from the newest CDs we've received in the studios." There is "no need to e-mail before sending CDs" to this classical music station. Jazz CDs for the separate HD stream ought to be clearly marked "jazz." Recordings can be sent to Diane Jones / WCNY 415 W. Fayette St. / Syracuse, NY 13204 / USA.

WCRB. In 2009, WCRB was bought by WGBH. WCRB's 99.5 FM is all classical. CDs may be sent to: WGBH /Attention: Alice Abraham / 1 Guest Street / Boston, MA 02135 (U.S.A.). For further info & playlists go to www.wgbh.org.

WDRT. Composer William Neil is the host of WDRT Radio's Symphony Sunday (http://williamneil.net/?page_id=1093), in Viroqua, WI (USA). The program is broadcast at 91.9 FM 9:00-11:00 A.M. Central Time and streams live at wdrt.org. Contact: thecomposerstudio@gmail.com.

WERA 96.7 FM in Clarendon, VA, USA (<http://wera.fm/about/wera-lp-radio-arlington>). Joe Gueron, host of GloBeat, says he would be "happy to discover new talent," and asks that composers, performers, and their agents e-mail him at Globeat.music@gmail.com before mailing CDs to Joseph Gueron/6207 Lakeview Drive/ Falls Church, VA 22041/USA.

WERU-FM Community Radio in East Orland, Maine, USA, broadcasts and streams Women's Windows at weru.org Sunday nights 8:00-10:00 P.M. E.T. Women's Windows highlights women's accomplishments found mostly "under the radar"—diverse music and spoken word. Mailing address: Women's Windows, attn.: Linda Washburn, WERU Community Radio, PO Box 170, East Orland, ME 04431. Email: womenswindows1988@gmail.com.

WETA (<http://www.weta.org/fm>). Classical WETA 90.9 FM accepts all proposals via the U.S. Postal Service. Send CDs you would like considered to WETA-Classical 90.9FM / 2775 South Quincy Street / Arlington, VA 22206 (USA).

On WFCF (Flagler College Radio in St. Augustine, Florida, USA, www.musicofourmothers.com), IAWM member Ellen Grolman hosts Music of Our Mothers, Wednesdays, 1:00-3:00 P.M. Eastern Time, on iheartradio.com and on 88.5 FM; NPR-affiliate WFWM carries the show at 91.9 FM in Frostburg, MD, on Fridays from 10:00 a.m. to noon.

WFWM (91.7 FM, in Frostburg, MD, USA, 10:00-noon Eastern Time Fridays). "If you are interested in possibly having some of your music performed on the show," Grolman says, "feel free to send the CD to me. Please send your CD(s) with details regarding duration, movement/movement title, and performers (and program notes if available) to the address below and I will endeavor to air your repertoire. If at all possible, please mark the information directly on the CD itself; separate sheets of paper are easily lost. Please do not send the CDs by registered or certified mail. Both the recording quality and performances must be excellent in order for the CD to be aired." : Ellen Grolman / 192 Anastasia Lakes Drive / St. Augustine, FL 32080. Her e-mail address is EGrolman@frostburg.edu.

WFIU Public Media (wfiu.org) in Bloomington, IN focuses some of its programming (primarily the weekly contemporary music program Wednesdays at 11:00 P.M. Central Time and a subsequent podcast) on emerging composers. "We acknowledge the importance of recognizing the work of living composers and seek to create new avenues especially for young composers to have their music heard. We would also like to feature prominently the work of women composers. We encourage composition students or other emerging composers . . . to submit CD quality recordings of . . . original works for consideration for airplay." Interested parties may contact WFIU's Music Director Joe Goetz at joegoetz@indiana.edu or (812) 855-3451. CDs and accompanying information may be posted to WFIU Music Director Joe Goetz / 1229 E. 7th St. / Bloomington, IN 47405 USA.

WGBH (www.wgbh.org/classical is now news/jazz (also world & Celtic). In 2009, WGBH bought WCRB. CDs may be sent to: WGBH / Attention: Alice Abraham / 1 Guest Street / Boston, MA 02135 (U.S.A.). For further info & playlists go to www.wgbh.org.

Whisperings (www.SoloPianoRadio.com) plays solo piano music exclusively. Composers and performers are invited to go to the submissions link at the bottom of the home page, to check whether recordings are currently being accepted.

WHRB (<http://www.whrb.org/>). CDs may be sent to: WHRB c/o Classical / 389 Harvard Street / Cambridge, MA 02138 (U.S.A.).

WMBR (<http://www.wmbr.org>). Classical music director Alley Stoughton reports, "We at WMBR are happy to receive CDs for consideration. Also happy to receive email [alley.stoughton@icloud.com] regarding pieces/CDs." CDs can be sent to her for her program, Not Brahms and Liszt (<http://alleystoughton.us/not-brahms-and-liszt/>), or to Ken Field (newedge@wmbr.org), host of The New Edge (<http://wmbr.org/newedge>) at (WMBR 88.1FM / 3 Ames Street / Cambridge MA 02142 (U.S.A.). Ken Field characterizes The New Edge as "devoted to creative and innovative instrumental music." Not Brahms and Liszt features "classical music of the 20th and 21st centuries, from Stravinsky to Reich to Frances-Hoad and onward."

WMUA 99.1 FM (<http://www.wmua.org/>). E-mail (music@wmua.org) before sending CDs, to avoid duplication. Send CDs to Max Shea or Classical Music Director / WMUA / 105 Campus Center / University of Massachusetts / Amherst, MA 01003 (USA).

WNUR is committed to listen to every recording submitted to it, and plays quite a range of genres. According to the station's Web page, "There's no reason to contact anyone at WNUR before sending your music; however, if you want to ask any questions, you should contact the music director or producer of the show you are sending your music to." Please see WNUR's Web site: http://www.wnur.org/about/wnurfaq.html#Should_I_contact_you_before_sending_my. The address is WNUR 89.3 FM / Attn: [genre of music] / 1877 Campus Drive / Evanston, IL 60201 (USA). To listen online, click on a link at <http://www.wnur.org/>.

WNYC (New York) can be heard over the Internet; go to <http://www.wnyc.org/schedule/>. Contact hosts David Garland and/or John Schaefer at listenerservices@wnyc.org.

WOSU-FM (<http://www.wosu.org/>) at Ohio State University may be heard over the Internet: <http://www.wosu.org/radio/listen-live/>. For composers and performers interested in sending CDs to the station, the address is WOSU-FM / WOSU Public Media / 2400 Olentangy River Road / Columbus OH 43210-1027 (USA). Music Director Beverley Ervine may be reached at beverley.ervine@wosu.org.

WPRB. Classical Discoveries on WPRB, 103.3 FM and online at www.wprb.com in Princeton, NJ (USA), regularly plays women composers' music. Winner of the 2005 ASCAP Deems Taylor Radio Broadcast Award, Classical Discoveries (Wed. 5:30-11:00 A.M. Eastern Time) is devoted to little known repertoire of all musical periods with an emphasis on the old (Baroque and before) and the "New Classical Music." Composers and others interested in sending CDs should first e-mail Marvin Rosen from the Web page, <http://www.classicaldiscoveries.org>, because, he says, "Occasionally I receive a CD from a composer of a genre that is not suitable for my program or a recording I already have."

WQXR (<http://www.wqxr.org/>). To have recordings considered for WQXR, the 24-hour classical station, please send them to the attention of the Music Department. To have them considered on Q2, a 24/7, online music stream that celebrates 500 years of new music, please send them to the attention of Alex Ambrose. The address is Classical WQXR 105.9 / Attn: [appropriate person or department] / 160 Varick Street, Eighth Floor / New York, NY 10013 (U.S.A.). "Please know we receive a tremendous number of CD submissions, and thus call backs will only be made to artists with whom a show is interested in working."

WRR-FM (<http://www.wrr101.com/?id=1>) in Dallas, Texas, streams classical music on the Internet, at <http://www.wrr101.com/stream.shtml>. Contact program director Kurt Rongey at Krongey@wrr101.com or send recordings (CDs only) to Box 159001 / Dallas, Texas 75315-9901 (USA). Telephone: (214) 670-8888.

WXXI-FM 91.5 in Rochester, NY, USA (streamed worldwide on the Web, at <http://interactive.wxxi.org/listen>). Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra Music Director Arild Remmereit is highlighting women composers in his inaugural season, which is broadcast on WXXI-FM 91.5. Contact music director (and midday host) Julia Figueras (jfigueras@wxxi.org), who handles new recordings, schedules interviews with composers and performers, and writes the classical e-newsletter.

--Linda Rimel

[Broadcast Update is available on the Web page of the International Alliance for Women in Music (<http://iawm.org>), as are the identity and Web address of the current Radio Request composer and a growing list—more than 400 so far—of previous Radio Request composers with links to their Web pages.]